DEATH OF BILLIARD PLAYER

Harry Gordon, a Well-Known Local Amateur, Passes Away a Few

Death interrupted the amateur threecushion billiard tournament now in progress at the Hauser, by claiming Henry Gordon, one of the contestants, who, under the name of "Quiney," who was acheduled to have played Fodie Saturday night. Mr. Gordon was taken ill a short time before the game and died early vesterday morning. His untimely death will be felt with regret by all who knew him.
He was a dover of the game and played unusually strong buillards in this tournament.

Mr. Gordon had played in five games and succeeded in winning two of them against the strongest competition. A bright future for him at the game had been generally predicted by local experts.
George Gundaker, with four consecutive in this tournament. He defeated Miller, his nearest rival, in the best game of the scratch man and his strong same has justified the handicapper's inderment by placing him so far back of his field.

Sam Persoff, who is tied with L. W.

the French-pool tournament, should have an excellent chance to secure the lead tonight. He is scheduled to meet George Myzer in the first game of the first week.

Waldecker has the same record, and from the performances and standing of the

This likely will be Persoff's seventh came, he having won five and lost one. Waldecker has the same record, and from the performances and standing of the men it appears as though the final remains with them. They will meet in the closing match if they are leading the tournament at this stage.

Persoff should win to-night's match from Meyer and take the lead. The latter has won only two out of six games played, but has figured in some hard luck Most of Persoff's opponents from now on will be those low in the list.

Waldecker has several to meet who are be those low in the list.

Waldecker has several to meet who are closely following him in the tournament, and he will have to play his best to retain his position. E. C. Mack has taken the lead over Walter Ely for third money. that St. Louis outclasses the winners of the Peninsular League championship was clearly shown.

In the first half the Tigers played the botter game, holding the locals to only two scores. The visitors scored once in the opening period.

Team work was more noticeable on the St. Louis side than in Saturday's game. Kelly, Cudmore, Comerford, Cunningham and Ammons all played well together and their combination passes toward the Detroit goal line were features.

Lapgford and McKenzle in the forward division of the Tiger team played well as individuals, but team work was lacking and they did not receive the proper support when in possession of the ball.

After fifteen minutes of play, Johnnie Comerford worked the ball from the twenty-five-yard line and shot through for the first score. They kicked off again, and in less than two minutes Ammons, Kelly and Cudmore passed until near the posts, and then, giving the ball to Cunningham, allowed him to score again.

Shortly before the close of the half Langford dropped one between Tully and the posts for the only Detroit score. In the second half Cudmore scored one and Kelly two of the goals, after nice sesistance on the part of the other forwards.

Abstein and Bartiliff, the full backs, played a good game, Many predict that the latter, who is but a youngster, will soon be a rival of the once famous St. Teresa and Cycling Club full backs.

Tully at goal played a good game, and but for his booting and slamming, the score would have been greater against the logals.

and when he falls it is usually toward the opponents' gcal.

Irwin is the biggest player in the back field, and hits the line hard. He has a fault, that of hitting high, but relies on his mates to tose him over and is a good burdler. Robinson's work is of the tricky variety. He is sly, makes a break for a certain hole and when he has directed the opponent's attention to that spot, goes through mother.

Dingman, left tackie, plays well. So effectively was he used in the tackie back and tackie around plays that these formations were called in regular turn. Dingman is a fearless player, goes into the thickest of the game and is usually good for a gain when called to carry the ball. That St. Louis is the best feam in the State is now generally admitted. St. Louis has a team which has hardly seen its equal in the city.
